

Scripture: Colossians 1:19

Jesus is Reconciler

Considering Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

What is this telling me about my Lord?

He reconciles sinners to God, making peace by the blood of His cross.

Adoring Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

What do I see here that is worthy of my adoration? What are some practical ways to express this to Him?

He rescued me out of darkness, giving me peace with God. I can express it through praise and worship.

Depending upon Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

What do I see in Jesus that is worthy of my trust, and what are some practical ways that I can express my trust?

He created all, is over all and was willing, out of love, to be the reconciler.

I can trust Him in life's circumstances, knowing He is all powerful and all knowing.

Calling upon Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

How do the things I see to be true of Jesus affect the way I call upon Him in prayer?

I can be confident He will work. In Him all things hold together, including me. He is powerful. I can call upon Him in confidence. I am assured of His love.

Obeying Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

Even where there are not commands or principles for me to follow, how is it that the things I learn of Jesus in this passage affect the way I submit to Him?

I can trust and not fear. I can follow where He leads, even when it is scary. This truth leads to trust.

Scripture: _____

Jesus is _____

Considering Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

What is this telling me about my Lord?

Adoring Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

What do I see here that is worthy of my adoration? What are some practical ways to express this to Him?

Depending upon Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

What do I see in Jesus that is worthy of my trust, and what are some practical ways that I can express my trust?

Calling upon Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

How do the things I see to be true of Jesus affect the way I call upon Him in prayer?

Obeying Jesus as I see Him in this passage:

Even where there are not commands or principles for me to follow, how is it that the things I learn of Jesus in this passage affect the way I submit to Him?